

An invitation to early childhood staff professional development with a difference to make a difference

Building safe and respectful communities: child's voices in discussing and changing bullying behaviours in their world

A 12 week collaborative action learning research project to refresh and re-excite your work with children

What's the aim?

To give you time, resources and ideas that excite you to tackle new ways of working with children who have challenging behaviours

What you need to do (March- May)

- attend 3 professional development sessions
- agree to try out some new ideas in your centre with children
- help to evaluate your learning

What we offer you:

- 3 mentoring 'on-site' to fit your needs and issues
- support for changes that matter to you & make a difference
- regular email bulletins
- information on the latest thinking about bullying and children with challenging behaviours.
