Transcribed and published here, with the kind permission of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and the Church of Scotland, is every reference I could find and decipher of the name McHardy from 1667 to 1857 in the Strathdon OPRs.

I have tried to transcribe the OPR records as accurately as possible, inserting a “?” where a word is completely illegible and [?] where I have enough to work with to make a reasonable guess. Any notations I have made appear in square brackets: [...]. Andrew McHardy of the Corryhoul web site has kindly helped with place names in OPR 240/1, where illegibility, spelling, and, at times, an antiquated style of script make it particularly difficult to know what place name is referred to with absolute certainty. His comments appear in double square brackets: [[...]]. To help other researchers locate specific entries, I have standardized the dates of entry (but the entries themselves are word for word), listed records in the order they appear in the original volumes and included section headings, notes, and other navigational pointers. Original entries in the OPRs are often not chronological in order, pages are sometimes mistakenly duplicated or are out of order, and some entries are duplicated between volumes. In some volumes I found I would get through to a certain year and then find myself back at the beginning year again.

I have tried to make the transcripts as clear as possible; however, I cannot guarantee that I have not made mistakes, and some text is so difficult to read different people may decipher it in different ways. To ensure the accuracy of your own research, please make these transcripts a starting point and check them against the original records. This is especially true for the report that accompanies this file in which I have tried to standardize spellings by adhering to the most common spellings (not necessarily the most modern spellings) within the OPRs. There is always the chance I've changed a name to what it should not be, so double check the original transcript and then preferably check it against the original entry in the OPR.

Strathdon OPR 240, volumes 1 through 4

My source for these volumes are the microfilms produced by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, source call numbers 0102538 and 0993299, which are photographed copies of the original Parish Records held by the Register General for Scotland in Edinburgh. Microfilm 0102538 was filmed in 1952, and contains OPR 240 volumes 1 through 3. It has white text on black background, and is actually better to work from for volume one. Microfilm 0993299 contains all four volumes; but, filmed in 1978, it has black text on white background and much of volume one is so faded out that it is totally illegible. I therefore worked with 0102538 for volume one and 0993299 for the other three.
