NEW PANIC ALBUM OUT NOW!

'Til the Medicine Takes

*Widespread Panic's latest studio album was released Tuesday, July 27. With lots of guest musicians and unfamiliar instruments, John Keane and the boys were able to work magic in the studio, creating a new portrait of Panic that will stand the test of many repeated listens.
 Each song begs the beginning of the next track, leading the listener on a journey through the album. The opening songs, "Surprise Valley" > "Bear's Gone Fishing," were both debuted in concert on Summer Tour 1999, after they had already been recorded for the album. For those fans who're familiar with every song from the shows, a host of surprises still awaits you on the CD.*

Track List:

Surprise Valley
 Bear's Gone Fishing
 Climb to Safety
 Blue Indian
 The Waker
 Party at Your Mama's House
 Dying Man
 You'll Be Fine
 One Arm Steve
 Christmas Katie
 All Time Low
 Nobody's Loss

Sign up for 1999 Summer Sessions!

With a line-up that reads like a cover of "An Honest Tune" magazine, the Summer Session tour is about to begin to the delight of jam-fans nationwide. String Cheese Incident, Gov't Mule, moe., and Galactic are the rotating headliners for the majority of the late-summer tour. Phil Lesh and Friends are headlining 7 of the shows, as well as a just-announced warm-up show at the Fillmore in Denver with Galactic and SCI (see the Tour Docket on the back side of this flyer). Ziggy Marley is headlining the Knoxville show. The four main bands, all top-caliber touring bands with a penchant for eclectic jamming, will rotate line-ups, and blend together for what will probably be stellar inner-band jams each night. Education you need is at Summer Session '99.

Trance Man schoolin' on Dying Man

When you first get a chance to pump up the volume on the new Panic CD, watch out for the "Trance Man" waiting to weird you out. WSP reaches unchartered waters in a brief bout of electronica, just before "Dying Man" on the new album. Although Big Ass Truck DJ Colin Butler scratches up the "Dying Man" with an urban twist, the techno intro segment (part of a composition originally called "Trance Man") was actually created by Dave Schools on his computer. The trivia question is now answered, but many more details & complete review will come out in the next issue of An Honest Tune (AHT 2.2/Fall).

TTMT Album Release Parties spring up

For Panic's last album, Light Fuse Get Away, the band played a free show to 100,000 fans, setting the record for the biggest album release party of all time. This time around, while Panic's in NYC, a few of the faithful fans were left sitting at home. Never ones to miss out on a good time, the Panic fans planned their own celebrations nationwide in honor of the new album. An Honest Tune magazine is proud to sponsor FOUR album release parties across the Southern USA, but our spirits are with you all at the Roseland Ballroom. These parties are organized by fans. Capricorn Records, Brown Cat, and Widespread Panic are not affiliated or responsible in any way.
