

“Defender” (for a friend)

I stood last night outside thine door
And watched for any foe
My sword at hand my shield beside
Lest evil's face should show.

All through the night I guarded thee
Thine heart mine to defend
The life of beast and mare of night
With boldness did I end.

Shawn White