
Contents

List of Tables	ix
Foreword (Sylvan von Burg)	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv

Part One: Introduction

Chapter One. Introduction: From Barbarity to Civilization	1
The Definition of a Contested Idea	1
The Civilizational Paradox	3
The Theoretical Debate	5
The Structure of Existential Dialectics	8
Methodological Holism	13
The Outline of the Project	14
Previous Books, Book Title, and Neologisms	15

Part Two: Culture

Chapter Two. The Rationalizing Process	43
Reason and Unreason	43
The Trinity of Pre-Modernity	44
The Rise of Linear-Centric and Cyclical-Centric Civilizations in Pre-Modernity	47
The Dominance of Linear-Centric Civilization in Modernity	60
The Crisis of Linear-Centric Civilization in Postmodernity	67
The Rise of Post-Civilization in After-Postmodernity	69

Part Three: Society

Chapter Three. The Pacifying Process	83
Peace and War.....	83
The Structural Process of Social Differentiation.....	85
The Institutional Process of Social Rationalization.....	89
The Organizational Process of Centralization	92
The Systematic Process of Integration.....	93
The Recurrence of Physical Violence	96

Part Four: Nature

Chapter Four. The Stewardizing Process	105
Stewardship and Reverence	105
The Stewardship of Creation in Linear-Centric Civilization.....	106
The Covenant with Nature in Cyclical-Centric Civilization	111
The Dilemmas of Man-Nature Relationship.....	117

Part Five: The Mind

Chapter Five. The Subliming Process	123
Self-Control and Spontaneity.....	123
The Linear-Centric Subliming Process	125
The Cyclical-Centric Subliming Process	130
Neurosis and the Culture of Self-Control.....	132

Part Six: Conclusion

Chapter Six. Conclusion: From Civilization to Post-Civilization.....	137
Civilization and Post-Civilization.....	137
The False Dichotomy of Civilization and Barbarity	138
The Future of Post-Civilization unto the Post-Human Age.....	141

Bibliography	187
Index	193