Idea Map for Deciding--Which country should I sail for?

Use the graphic organizer below to sort through the information as you research. The topic or "big" question has been given, along with some suggested "small questions". The small questions are like targets that guide you in sifting through your research to find the facts that help you to make your decision about the topic question AND tell why. You will undoubtedly have to create more questions as you go through this process.
