IN THE LAB – session 1

There is a threat of a new computer virus, the so-called NEADERTHAL VIRUS, which 'feeds on' electrical power. This virus doesn't allow people to use electricity as a source of energy. You are a member of an organization on protecting the environment and you decide to make a poster in order to inform people about the alternative sources of energy people could use in the case that the virus will be set free.

This poster will appear on the notice boards of all the schools in Greece.

Visit the following website

http://www.bbc.co.uk/education/asguru/generalstudies/sciencetechnology/19energy/energy08.shtml and take some notes on the available alternative sources of energy in the space provided below, so that next time you will be able to work on your poster.

Use the material included in the folder to help you!
