

This is the application form. Why don't you print this out, fill out the form, write xxxxxxxx a check, and mail it to him. If you do, we'll let you run the race and we'll give you a T-shirt or two. We'll even throw your number in the hobo hat and maybe draw it for a door prize. We have some really nice doors to give away. See the pictures.

ENTRY AND RELEASE FORM: This entry contains limitations of your legal rights, so read it. I know that there are hazards associated with running this far. These hazards can include, but are not limited to, bikes, hikers, horses, wild animals, roots, rocks, trees, other assorted wildlife, flora and fauna, and other crazed runners. Having read that last sentence, I am certifying that I understand these risks and I am properly trained to participate. By running this race I, and my estate, will hold harmless anybody or organization officially associated with the race. This includes Rock Cut State Park, the State of Illinois, the Race Director and his minions, and the Rockford Roadrunners. I also agree to abide by the rules of the race and acknowledge that the Race Director's word is final. I also agree that by running the 50K, I know I'm nuts and should know better than to do something like this, but, hey, it's fun and impresses the opposite sex. If you are under 18, you can run either race, with your parents and the race directors' permission.
