

When thinking of a party theme
To build upon this year.
The common thought in all our minds
Was absolutely clear.

We asked you to "Say Maybe"
To new music and a tour.
We get a little anxious
When it's been a year or more.

Although we didn't know it yet,
We didn't need to ask.
Because you had a plan in place
Which made the answer, "yes".

The papers and the internet
Announced the thrilling news -
The British Isles and Germany
Is where the tour debuts.

It's also been reported
That two talents have converged,
And that another gift of song
Will very soon emerge.

An album AND a tour this year,
An answer to our plea,
Which went beyond our fervent hope
That you would "Say Maybe."

We're sending you this birthday card,
And each has signed their name
With hope you'll notice where they're from,
And come their way again.

Happy Birthday, Neil!
