

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE

Academy	Pyrrhonists	Stoics	Others
347: Plato dies	c. 365: Pyrrho born	344: Zeno of Citium born	341: Epicurus born
	c. 344-324: Pyrrho in East with Alexander		c. 322: Aristotle dies
	c. 325: Timon born	312: Zeno arrives in Athens	312: Diodorus Cronus teaching in Athens until 290s 307: Epicurus founds Garden in Athens
c. 295: Arcesilaus arrives in Athens			271: Epicurus dies
c. 273: Arcesilaus becomes head of the Academy and institutes skepticism	c. 270: Pyrrho dies	Ariston of Chios, fl. c. 270-250
242: Arcesilaus dies, succeeded by Lacydes	c. 235: Timon dies	262: Zeno dies, succeeded by Cleanthes
c. 219: Carneades born		c. 232: Cleanthes dies, succeeded by Chrysippus
		c. 206: Chrysippus dies, succeeded by Zeno of Tarsus
(?): Carneades becomes head of Academy		(?): Zeno dies, succeeded by Diogenes of Babylon
155: Carneades on embassy to Rome with Peripatetic Critolaus and Stoic Diogenes		c. 152: Diogenes dies, succeeded by Antipater

Introduction

CHRONOLOGICAL TABLE (Continued)

Academy	Pyrrhonists	Stoics	Others
129: Carneades dies		c. 129: Antipater dies, succeeded by Panaetius
c. 128: Clitomachus becomes head of Academy
c. 110: Clitomachus dies, succeeded by Philo of Larissa		109: Panaetius dies
c. 87: Antiochus breaks away to found old Academy	c. 90-80 (probably): Aenesidemus breaks away from Academy and revives "Pyrrhonism"
c. 79: Philo dies		Posidonius, 135-151
c. 67: Antiochus dies
45-44: most of Cicero's philosophical works written	Agrippa (1st cent. A.D. ?)		A.D. 129-c. 199: Galen
	Sextus Empiricus, fl. c. A.D. 200		A.D. 354-430: Augustine