

LOUISA REDDICK

Louisa was born on February 6, 1858, on lot four, concession four, Marlborough township, Carleton county, Ontario, the seventh of fourteen children of James Reddick and Matilda Goldie. She was baptised in the North Gower Anglican church on August 24, 1865, one of four sisters privately baptised on the same day.

Her older brother, Robert, established a medical practice in Winchester, Ontario, in 1875. Louisa went to keep house for him and, while there, worked with Alex Cameron, a tailor. She and Alex were married, probably before 1880 since the 1881 census of Winchester recorded Alexander, from Scotland, age 28, Louisa, age 24, and Donald R., age 1. The 1891 census recorded the following family group:

Cameron,	Alex	age 38
" ,	Louisa	" 35
" ,	D.R. (Donald)	" 11
" ,	H.M. (Hector)	" 9
" ,	Alex G.	" 7
" ,	Helen	" 4
" ,	Ethel	" 2
" ,	Norman (Colin?)	" 1

The Maple Ridge cemetery (between Chesterville and Winchester) has, on a single large stone on the hill near the west corner, these inscriptions:

Alexander Cameron	1854-1912
Louisa Reddick	1854-1942
Alex G. Cameron	1884-1923
Helen Louisa Cameron	1886-1919
wife of George H. Steer
Hector M. Cameron	1882-1957
Donald Cameron	1880-1965
Ethel Cameron	1889-1970

In the St. Mary's Catholic cemetery in Chesterville, Ontario, is a gravestone with this information:

Norman S. Cameron	1890-1961
Essie M. Dwyer (wife)	1890-1960

and a second stone with this information:

James Dwyer	1855-1931
Ann O'Donohue	1860-1937
Helena L. O'Dwyer	1900-1989

According to the obituary of Helena Dwyer, her parents were James Dwyer and Nancy O'Donohue, not Ann Dwyer but that may only indicate that her name was Nancy Ann. Helena was Essie's sister.
