

BERTHA REDDICK

Although she is said to have been the oldest child of John and Margaret Reddick, nothing is known of Bertha nor is it certain that she existed. Her name appears only as a family member on a list which was said to have been extracted from an Elliott family bible many years ago. That there was such a bible and that the list was drawn from it seems likely since the data on it is substantially correct. The fate of the bible is not known and the list cannot be confirmed. No one has ever spoken of Bertha nor has her name been seen in any other record.

Bertha's name appears on the list with a birth date of 1861. The date is logical since the next child was born on March 23, 1862. Beyond that there is nothing to be said about her.