

PROPHECY-

Sweeper '71

By Nancy Triggs

If any of our readers were surprised to receive questionnaires not so long ago., perhaps this paper will explain it.

About three months ago your reporters happened to be passing through the village of Malverne and thought we'd stop at the high school for a while to see our old teachers, We happened to spend micro time than we had planned with our old faculty advisors Charles W. Rays discussing what had happened to some of our more outstand- students. What we learned was so interesting, and some so amazing, that we decided to follow up on the other members of the Class of '51 to see just where they were and what they were doing, What you find here is the result,

NEWS OF THE DAY

Eleanor Jahn, newly appointed head of the Library of Congress, and her assistant., Janet Poulins had Just revised the library's alphabetizing system along the lines of the Dewey Decimal System.

Larry DeCondio, who has worked for the same insurance company since he cut school to got the job 20 years ago has just received his first raise in pay from the now president of the company Betty Donahue.

Carol Van Benschoten, former model, has just been appointed chairman of the judges for the Mr. America contest.

The now National League Umpires Dick Traynor, is laid up temporarily with a concussion from a flying pop bottle.

Lois Estern, following in the footsteps of her father, has opened an antique shop on Hempstead Avenue, Malverne, where it is said that her oldest and most valuable item is a personal account of the Civil War by one who fought with General Lee, Mr. Charles W. Ray,

Steve Ferraro, the big Wall St. tycoon., has just been elected head of Alcholics Anonymous

Peter Hemme, world famous explorer, has succeeded in climbing Mount Everest.

Richard Washer and his father, in business on Long Island, have recently expanded.

Charles Wilbourne, the man who brought baseball to the French Foreign Legion, announced today that his pigmy team will wear low-cut uniforms designed by fashion expert Laura Magnusson.

Notorious Roy Koebel, alias Dirty Pierre, has been reported to be in the city with his henchman Richard Conboy to square an old debt with Inspector Walter Bird, who was instrumental in their capture after the big West Side robbery,

The recent flood of counterfeit $3 notes has been attributed to that master of printing Charles Busch and his assistant John Miller.

Judge Robert Tischler, after closing down a burlesque house in Union City run by Ralph Seybold and his 14th wife, the former Joan Coningsbyj, is flying there immediately with his secretary, Patricia Keahon to make a more thorough investigation of the matter.

Rosemarie Carlo, former lap-sitter for Mr. Charles Rays, has now started a newspaper in Washington with Phyllis Carnovale.

Robert Vanderbeck has just been promoted to head of the taxidermy department of the Museum of Natural History in Now York. He enjoys his work but claims it can be a rather stuffy job.

Joan Bohnaker has just opened a national chain of roadside restaurants replacing the old Howard Johnson syndicate.

POLITICS

The recent deficit in the U.S. Treasury was explained today by the mysterious absence of Julius Lampert, the Treasurer, Audrey Mills, the Secretary of the Treasury, couldn't be reached for comment today because she was behind schedule in signing money,

The State Department announced today that Joyce Larrouy has been made ambassadrests to France. Perhaps this accounts for the sudden boom in the number of passports issued to men from all over the United States,

Barbara May, newly elected head of the WAACI's got her first enlistee in the person of Patricia Murpby, who wants to see the world and more men at the same time.

Secretary of Agricultures Kenneth Grossman, said that he and his secretary, Barabara Curlis, were going to make a thorough investigation of the recent potato bug scourge.

It was learned today that Robert Hyland will run for president in the coming elections next fall. Alfred Apel, his campaign manager, has already begun promising jobs to his loyal followers.

The results of the election for governor of Connecticut have just come in and show that Bruce MacDonald won handily in what was supposed to be a very close race.

Henry Windeler, chief of police in Malverne, Long Island, captured that notorious hot-rod driver, Harold Sanders, who is wanted in seven states for fleeing from the arms of the law.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES

Charles Gerbe, head of Gerbe Motors, Inc., has announced the development of a now super-fuel discovered by his chemical expert, Arnold Haje. Guy Turrell and Raymond Huntington, designers for Gerbe Motors, Inc., have just developed a car which runs sideways for drivers who like to drive with their head out the window.

Arthur Dorman, a test pilot for the Ackerman Aircraft Company, flew twice the speed of sound today in a plans designed and developed by Charles Oehler, an engineer in the same company.

Donald Robinson, president of the Robinson Rubber Company announced today that two famous explorers, Margaret Arnesen and William Lapp, have contracted to go up the Amazon River in search of new rubber resources for his company.

Two new secretaries Francis Shaw and Lorraine Rillings, were hired today by Peter Landau, the wealthy industrialist, after his previous ones, Joan Farran and Mary Anderson, quit yesterday. They claimed that wealthy Mr. Landau was putting pleasure ahead of business.

Roy Streithorst., head of a long chain of gasoline stations, has reportedly put Thomas Murphy, and old friend, in charge of his now northern branch,

The new dam across the St. Lawrence River, being built by the Jack Ewing Construction Corporation, will be planned and supervised by engineer James McAuliffe. The dam, when completed, will be the largest in the world

Audrey Hassett has just opened a brokerage firm on Wall Street. She announced that Pat Haight will manage the main office. Her publicity director will be Judith Greenberg. Miss Greenberg declares that all advertising will be oral, so that she will be able to talk as much as she wants to for a change,

PROFESSIONAL NOTES

Daniel Stix, proposer of the now socialized medicine will fly here tomorrow to deliver an address before the Women's Forum headed by Zhita, Nash, his secretary Shirley Johnson announced today.

William Swift, the doctor who astounded the medical world by removing the appendix from the Encyclopedia Britannica, will give another demonstration on Monday with the assistance of Melba Feistel, his medical secretary.

The new hospital, which was founded by nurses Marion Bastedo and Robin Hall, reported today that Bob Schomo, the very rich financier, had given them a large sum of money to aid in its running. Two new nurses were added to the undermanned staff today as Jackie Kottle and Patricia Donovan joined the hospital squad.

Edward Blackoff, that struggling pediatrician, hired a laboratory technician today in the person of Barbara Engelman. What we want to know is, what does he need with a laboratory technician when he doesn't have a laboratory?

Mary Woerner, and X-ray technician, discovered a cure for cancer which has the whole medical world agog, today.

Peter Kaiser, the originator of the now new cure for hydrophobia, is now on vacation in Florida.

Jean MacNab is now Dean of Women at Connecticut State College from which she graduated.

Edgar Ostrander, still doing postgraduate work, is scurrying around the campus looking for the books he misplaced 20 years ago.

Fred Roberts has turned over a new leaf, forsaken mechanics, and joined his uncle teaching in a private school in New Jersey. He and his wife leave tomorrow for the new location.

Thomas Lassiter, the brilliant educator, has been named as president of the New York State Board of Regents,

It is rumored that Robert Pearson who attended Social 12 courses in six schools before obtaining his degree, is now head of the Malverne Board of Education.

THEATRE NOTES

Martin Weiner received the Critical Award last night for his performance in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" which also starred those talented actresses Joan Carlin and Jane Hoffberg. The show itself was produced by Robert Irwin working closely with his scenic designer William Potter.

The show at Radio City Music Hall is heartily recommended for all who enjoy superb acting as well as good music. Featured in the show is that talented comedienne, Sandra Broido, who has just returned from a successful stand in Chicago. Two new additions were made to the regular show yesterday when Rhoda Kaplan and Rosemarie Bergianti were signed as dancers. John Beckel is again featured as organist this year,

Philip Ulman is now appearing in the Village Barn with his Spanish instrumentalists including William Stiven and his trombone.

Daniel Frothingham, reputed to be the world's best piano player, will appear in Carnegie Hall next week to give a concert appearance for the first time in two years,

The show at the Met is a very enjoyable one. With the superb singing of those two sopranos, Jane McGee and Theresa Menafrá, under the direction of Erie Hellberg, the show will, no doubt, remain there for some time to come.

Figure skating champ, Ann Barry, is scheduled to appear in Madison Square Garden all next week. Don't miss it.

Martha Boykin, popular blues singers announced today, through her secretary Dolores Hohmans that she will appear with that dancing sensation, Ruth Spitzenberg for an engagement of undetermined length here in New York.

Nancy MCCoy, head of the Unemployment Bureau here, listed Jackie Swaun, a singer, as unemployed today, but she was quickly hired by James Mills a prominent businessman, as a Secretary.

It is learned today that Joan Hulley is proving to be a huge success an star of the Follies Bergiere in Paris., She has made a slight change in the routine of her main number, a fan dance, using Social Studies tests instead of fans,

Popular cartoonist Alan Rubin has praised the new oil painting by Lois Guthrie and termed it one of the finest he has seen yet, Carol Jensen, well-known flute player, has just obtained a position with New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

Barbara Sherman, who has revived the shimay on the Broadway stage, has received rave notices from all the men critics,

AROUND TOWN

Ed Foley is rumored to be still paying off his "Time" magazine debts incurred in high school 20 years ago.

Peter Haej although he started growing late in life, is now the world's tallest man, measuring 7' 2" in his stocking feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts have announced the birth of their 14th child a girl. This makes 7 boys and 7 girls for the busy couple. Mrs. Roberts is the former Elaine Maggi of Malverne.

Edythe Mason has quit her Job as secretary to John Scherger, who was recently picked by members of the Association for the Protection of Secretaries from Past-working Bosses and is now working as a snake charmer with Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey circus, She claims it is safer working with snakes,

Theresa MacNamara has finally settled down on a southern California grapefruit farm, and says she likes the work very much.

Violet Vollmer, former deep-sea diver, has now married and settled down in Arkansas,

Joan Washer of Malverne will become the bride of Frank Dalto of Long Beach next month, and together they plan to operate a horse ranch,

There's a rumor going around town that Bill Burns smiled last night.

Russ Hardy, that well-known frustrated lover, is reported to be living the life of a hermit in the Adirondacks.

Lady Garris of London has just eloped with Louis Reiss, author of the Nobel Prize winning books "The History of a Flea."

Payton Brandenstein, millionaire playboy, has just taken off for a tour of South America with his secretary, Loretta Fores.

Charles Bullossp director of the Bulloss Dance Studios., has eloped with his chief instructor Doris Allen,

Louis Schaefer, rewmed author of the book "The Love Life of the Sine and Cosinesm has completed palne for his marriage to his former secretarys Janet Wiggin,

And last but not least-Is, your humble correspondents Nancy Triggs must confess that I am a happily married woman., living in Now York City and looking after four little grandchildren.

