Discover the Benefits of a Marlo Quinn Soy Candle

The soy candles made by Marlo Quinn are 100% pure soy candles, hand poured from soybeans grown in the USA.

Marlo Quinn candles burn cleaner and longer than traditional petroleum-based paraffin candles, eliminating unsightly soot and reducing carcinogens from being released in the air. Soot blackens your ceilings, walls, heating and air units, curtains and carpet. Imagine inhaling that same soot into your lungs! This makes Marlo Quinn candles an environmentally safe candle.

Marlo Quinn uses only non-toxic and lead-free wicks, we use cotton braided or paper core wicks in all of our candles.

Each candle is heavily drenched in fragrance oil, we always use the maximum scent load allowed by our wax.

The soybean is one of the most versatile products used today. It has been a high protein source for millions of people for thousands of years. However, being a food source is only the beginning of the uses of this abundant resource.

- Soy candles help our environment, soybeans are a renewable and biodegradable resource
- Soy candles produce 90% less soot than other waxes
- Lead Free Wicks
- Non-Toxic (non-irritable for people with breathing problems)
- Cleans up with soap and water
- Longer burning- as much as 3 times longer than regular candles
- Soy Candles help the US economy and farmers- The production and burning of soy wax candles can greatly benefit the American agricultural economy. If soy wax replaced common paraffin wax, an estimated 60 million pounds of soybeans would be required for annual candle production

Candle Collections

We offer 100% soy wax candles in over 100 scents and a variety of elegant containers. Each candle is highly scented and hand poured with care. All of our soy candles are offered in the customer's choice of natural (creamy off white appearance) or color tinted. We use only cotton braided or paper core wicks in all of our candles, and even provide the option of wickless candles (for use in candle warmers). For the customer that enjoys tarts, we offer two sizes of our highly fragranced marlo melts. If you do not see your favorite scent listed, let us know. We will be more than happy to research adding in new fragrances to our line.
