A new take on standard:

Whether revisiting a jazz classic through modern eyes, or performing new music already timeless, this group is guaranteed to bring you to an original new world. A truly eclectic group, their careful blend sounds equally at home in a 1950's Jazz Club, the streets of Rio De Janeiro, or in the Balkan Mountains of Eastern Europe without feeling either contrived or schizophrenic.

Instrumentation

- Scott J. Kulick          Trumpet
- McDowell Myers      Guitars

Performance Length:

Three Sets (45 min each) or Two Sets (1 hr each).

Members:

Scott J. Kulick has been playing the Trumpet since age nine. He studied music at Roanoke College from 2000-2004, studying classical music with Tom Bithell, and Jazz with John D'earth. Since then he has settled in the Roanoke Valley, playing trumpet in classical, jazz, and rock settings. He has performed at such venues as Roanoke's Festival in the Park, the Washington D.C. mall, Sweet Caroline's in Winchester, Martin's Downtown Grill (Roanoke), Dolce (Roanoke), 309 Market Street (Roanoke), etc. Scott is also currently a member of the Halfmoon Band, and can be seen with After Destiny.

McDowell Myers has been playing the guitar for over ten years. With widely ranging tastes, he has always searched for his own voice and sound within any genre or musical style. He studied music at Roanoke College as well as other institutions and with numerous instructors. He has been lucky enough to play with some of the best musicians the Roanoke Valley has to offer as well as many other great musicians from all over the world at various venues.
