

A Child's Flower Grimoire

by eliza@sacredspiral.com

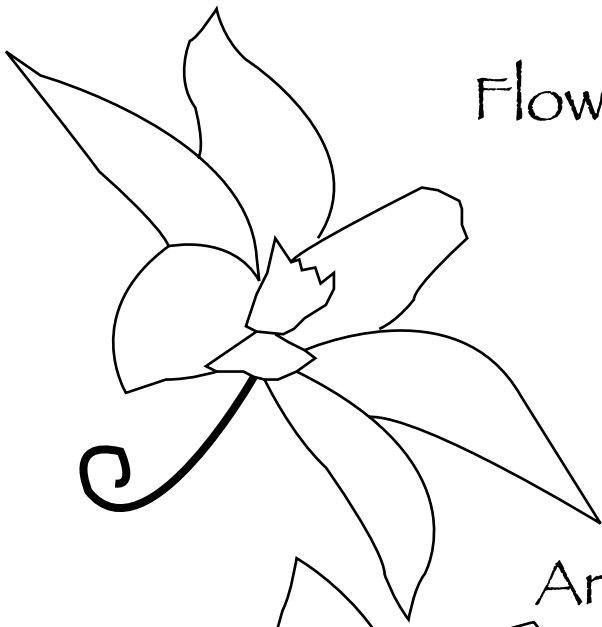

Flowers in bunches
Brings us together
And helps us pull through Any rough weather

A flower of purple or royal blue will bring good feelings to all that you do.

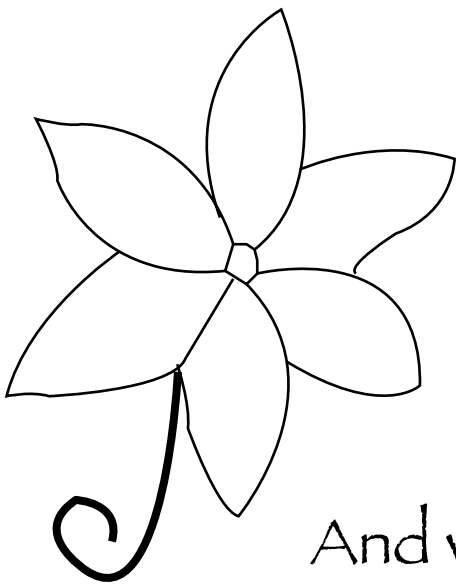

Flowers gathered from a vine

And woven into a lofty crown

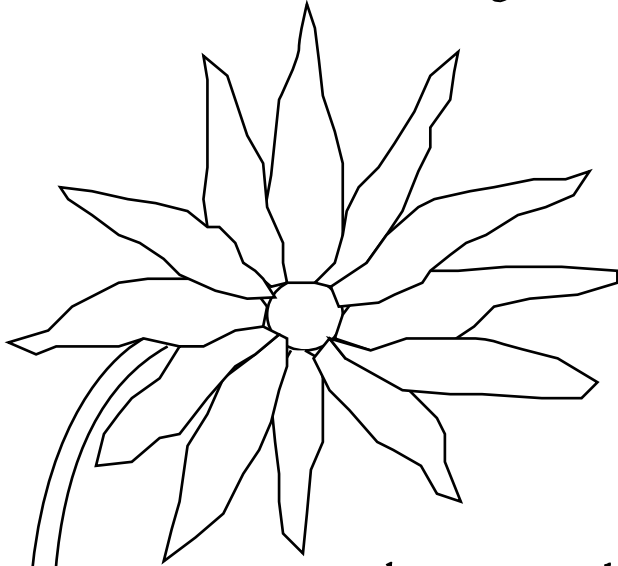

Will help you get to Faery Land

And will keep you from Goblin Towne.

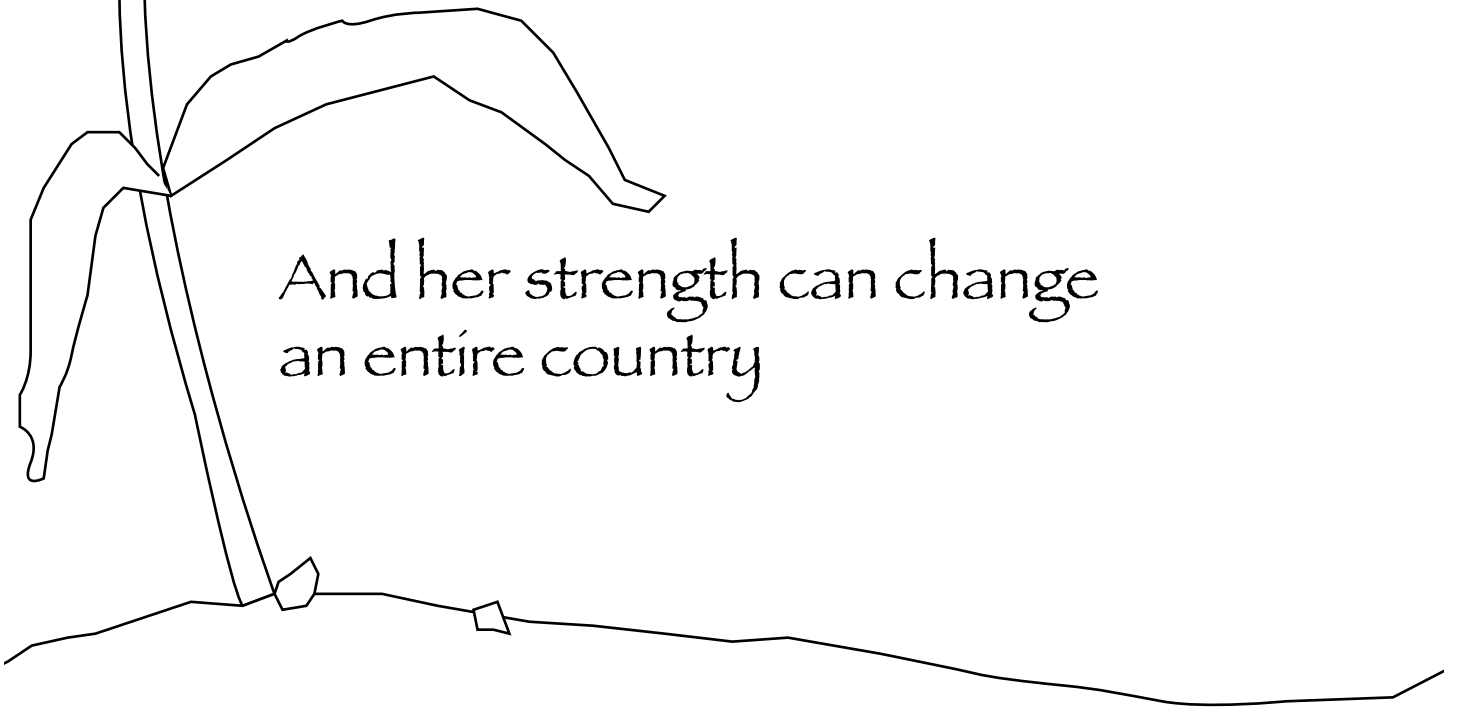

Never shun the homely flower

She may be small and common to see

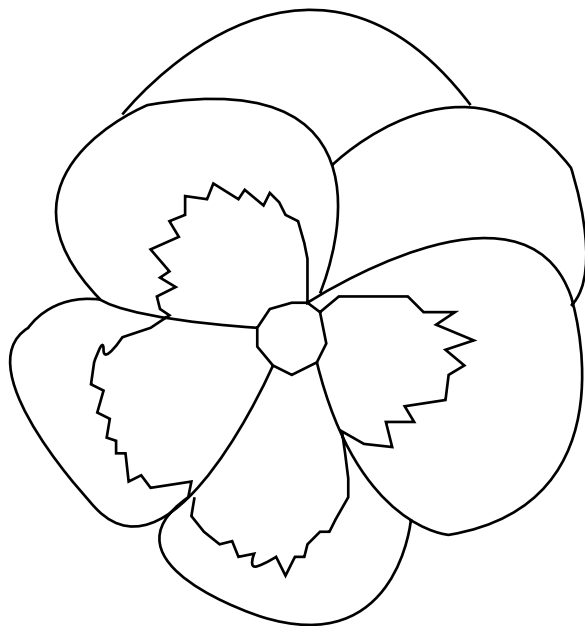

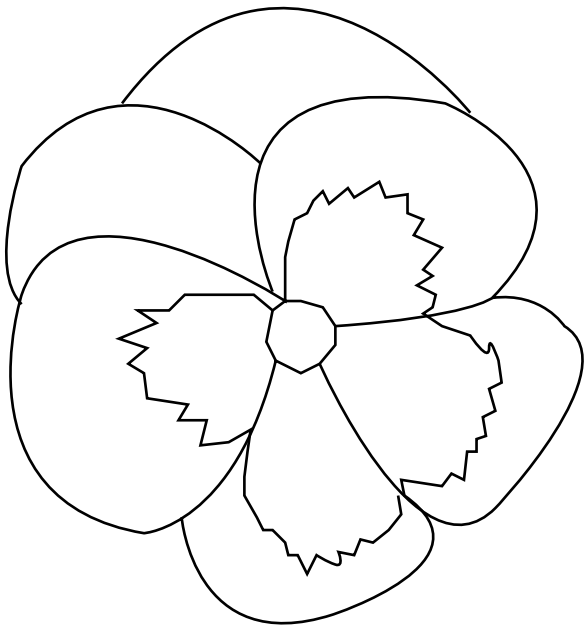

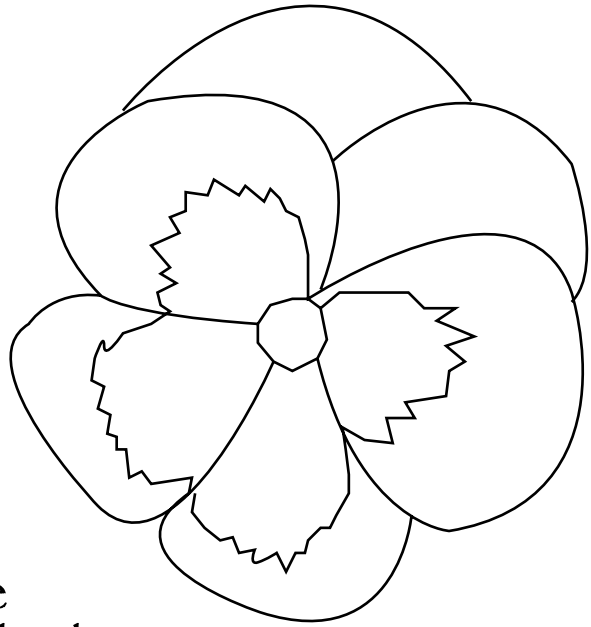

But her wisdom brings many a wonder

And her strength can change an entire country

Pansies planted in a row
All along the garden's edge Brings joy to those within the home
Surrounded by the pansied hedge

The Queen of the Fields
Wears a daisy crown.

Loop within loop
The flowers are tied around.

And you, too, can be the Queen of Fields.

By knowing how much smiles and flowers will yield.
