

The North Carolina

Conservative

Introducing:

The first edition of:

The North Carolina
Conservative

Mailing Address:

The North Carolina Conservative,
2005
all rights reserved

Let's Roll!!!

Welcome to The North Carolina Conservative.

The North Carolina Conservative is a new, state-wide newspaper. January, 2005 marks the first issue of what will soon be the largest circulation, and most influential, newspaper in the state.

The North Carolina Conservative was started by a group of concerned citizens who found the biased reporting of the liberal North Carolina news media intolerable. Under the leadership of Judson Cox (editor in chief) and Rebecca Carroll Cox (managing editor), conservatives across the state, throughout the nation and as far away as Israel have rallied together to right this wrong.

The North Carolina Conservative will hold our representatives accountable by reporting the news that is unreported or under reported by North Carolina's liberal media.

For instance:

Governor Easley's shady land deals. How do his biggest supporters seem to know which properties will be purchased by the state?

The Enron style accounting of our state budget.

How North Carolina's driver's license policies encourage illegal immigrants to come to North Carolina.

How illegal immigration endangers our residents, increases our tax burden and undermines our national security.

The NC DOT's blatant quid pro quo that says if your county doesn't donate to the state Democratic Party, your roads won't be fixed.

The high illiteracy rates in our public schools.

The open lesbianism of Sen. Julia Bozeman, and her agenda to promote gay marriage in North Carolina.

Rampant election fraud, including ballot box stuffing, bought votes and illegal immigrants registered to vote.

Terrorist fund raising and open sedition in our state universities, paid for by our tax dollars.

The North Carolina Conservative will seek to make North Carolina's representatives accountable to the voters by giving an honest presentation of the worthwhile legislation and the misdeeds of both parties. Unlike the liberal media, we will not stack the deck in favor of Democrats and liberal Republicans.

The North Carolina Conservative will be a forum and a resource for conservative North Carolinians. We welcome your comments, questions and news tips.

The North Carolina Conservative believes that the overwhelming majority of North Carolinians are conservative, as witnessed by our high church attendance and how our state votes in national elections.

The North Carolina Conservative defines a conservative, as one who seeks to preserve the best aspects of western culture, including the Judeo-Christian values and free market economics enshrined in our Constitution - those things that made America the freest, most prosperous nation on earth.

A conservative rejects the failed philosophies of Rousseau and Marx, that have bankrupted every nation that has embraced them, and caused more deaths in the "people's republics," than all of the world's wars combined.

The North Carolina Conservative seeks to promote conservative principles.

- By Judson Cox, Editor In Chief

The North Carolina Conservative is published at the beginning of each month.

Subscriptions are $40.00 per year. Make checks payable to:

The North Carolina Conservative
PO Box 305
Linville NC
28646

United Nations By Charlie Daniels

The very name of the organization is misleading. It is not the United Nations, in fact, about the only thing this bunch of overpaid so called diplomats are united in is their hate of all things American, that is all things American except our money or our military assistance when they get their tails caught in the door.

Not only is the organization not united, it is corrupt and it's looking now as if the corruption goes to the very top of the food chain, no pun intended.

Now that the upper echelon of UN officials have been caught with their collective hands in the cookie jar they want to conduct their own internal investigation.

The oil for food debacle is not only an example of out of control greed, it is an example of treachery, deceit and downright cruelty, literally taking food out of the mouths of babies and propping up the most cruel regime since Adolph Hitler.

People in positions of power who turn out to have clay feet don't surprise me anymore, and as one who has long mistrusted the motives of the UN, I certainly am not taken by surprise at what this bunch of thugs have done.

How many Sean Penn type arguments did you hear before the war about how the American embargo was the cause of the abject misery of the Iraqi people, when all the time the United Nations and high officials of the French and other foreign governments were lining their pockets with blood money while they went about the business of trying to get the embargos lifted so Saddam and his demonic regime could continue to torture and suppress the helpless people of Iraq.

Where are you now, you "Blame America first" people, now that it has been proven that Saddam took the money which was meant to feed the hungry people of his country?

See United Nations page: 4

Rachel Lea Hunter Receives Walter B. Jones Campus Defender Award; Announces for Chief Justice Seat in 2006

A number of enthusiastic Duke College Republicans turned out last December 1st to see the presentation of the first annual Walter B. Jones Campus Defender Award, to Rachel Lea Hunter, held in the Biological Sciences Building of Duke University. This award was recently created to honor the politicians, professors and protesters who best reflect the legacy of U.S. Rep. Walter B. Jones, a man who became famous for protecting the First Amendment rights of college students. The awarding led up to several notable announcements from the Congressman and Rachel Lea Hunter (R-N.C.), a Cary attorney who recently polled over 450,000 votes in her narrow loss for North Carolina Supreme Court.

See
Rachel Lea Hunter page: 3