

Errachidia: The beauty of simplicity

By: Ouassat Rkiya

Errachidia is a simple region in everything. In the south east of Morocco this region is keeping a lot of treasures in traditions, customs and so many other simple things.

Really when you visit Errachidia you are confronted with one sight, that's of the desert. Bare mountains, high dunes, Extreme weather: torrid in the summer and freezing in the winter, and huge tempests. Despite all these harsh conditions, the region is relatively free from pollution.

The people of the region are very nice and generous. You can enjoy their hospitality in a free glass of mint-tea, a couple of handfuls of couscous, tasting tajine, eating a mouthful of local pizza that is "Tannourt" or "Medfouna".

The simplicity of the region is its strength. Here you are respected, invited to different ceremonies and activities and made happy all the time. Here you can surely enjoy the beauty of simplicity.
