

TRUTH AND FACTS

*Recollections of a Hongkong
Industrialist*

by

H. C. TING

(C) 1974 by H. C. TING

All rights reserved. This book, or parts thereof, must not be reproduced in any form without permission. Published by Kader Industrial Co., Ltd., 24 Tanner Road, North Point, Hong Kong.

Acknowledgements

I am grateful to the following authors, friends and publishers for allowing me to use their copy-righted material and writings in this book.

The John Day Company, Inc., Robert Hale & Company and McIntosh and Otis, Inc.: Hong Kong, by Gene Gleason, Copyright 1963.

The Far Eastern Economic Review Limited: an article from The Far Eastern Economic Review, July 11, 1963.

Continental News Agency: an interview with me, by Howard Chao Hao-sheng.

Printed in Hong Kong by
New Island Printing Co. Ltd.

CONTENTS

	Page
Preface	I
Introduction	VIII
1. The Chinese Communist Doctrine of "Up With The Proletariat And Down With The Capitalist" – A Contradiction To Human Nature	1
2. The Capitalists And Exploitation	5
3. The Conspiracy And The Aim Of The Communist Party In Destroying The Capitalist Class	8
4. My Struggle	11
5. The Success In Establishing Wei Ming Flashlight And Battery Works	13
6. The Story Of The Pao Chiu Flashlight Bulb Factory	33
7. Rebuilding Country Roads	38
8. Help The Poor And Building A School In My Village	42
9. Shanghai During Eight Years Of War	46
10. The Dubious Peace And Its Uncertainties	67
11. The Other Side Of The Capitalist Class	74
12. Twenty Years Of Hong Kong's Industrial Development	76
13. My Efforts To Save Kader From Collapse And My Continued Industrial Endeavour in Hong Kong	79
14. My Work With The Federation Of Hong Kong Industries	88
15. My Experience In Manufacturing Toys And Dealing With Overseas Businessmen	95

16. Need Of Reform For Hong Kong's Civic Organisations	99
17. Wei Ming Employees Who Were Sacrificed	108
18. Help To Families Of Wei Ming Workers And Debate With Mainland Authorities	116
19. Impressions Of My Third Visit To The United States	119
Conclusion	127
Appendices	133
Notes	155
An Interview With H. C. Ting by Howard Chao Hao-Seng	241
Supplementary Material 1973.	247