

Saturday 05/06/2006 7:07:40pm

Name: Gene & Peggy

Email:

Message: Tracy:

Great news on the MRI and the chemo count down date. I am sure it is a great relief to see an end in sight for the chemo treatments. Both Peggy and I could not be happier about the news.

Peggy is down in Savannah, Georgia on a mini-vacation with a friend. Ginny and John have started to look for some places to stay in the Virgin Islands for Elizabeth's wedding next March. It really looks like a beautiful island and we are looking forward to that trip.

Hope all the news continues to be positive, and as always, you are in our thoughts and prayers.

Gene

Monday 05/01/2006 7:31:51am

Name: Gina Moldenhauer

Email: gmoldenhauer@kreilkamp.com

Message: I'm glad to hear your doctor appointment went well & that you now have an end date in sight for the chemo. Hopefully the next two months will go fast for you. They should with you being in a wedding anyway. :-) Shortly after the wedding you'll have your last round of chemo & then like you said, can hopefully go back to living a normal life.

We are always thinking of you & wish you all the best. Have a great week!!

~ Gina & Nick

Saturday 04/29/2006 5:25:15pm

Name: Jim and Kathy

Email:

Message: GREAT, GREAT NEWS!!!!!! At least the end is in sight and more importantly you can go back to being a "fake" blond. I know I feel better after my appointment with the hairdresser. No seriously, we are glad there is no new growth and hopefully your life can get back to some degree of normalcy - if there is such a thing with cancer. We will continue to keep you in our prayers and hopefully we will see you soon.

Love - Jim and Kathy

Sunday 04/23/2006 1:40:26pm

Name: Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hey Tracy! Just checking in to see what's new with you. We hope that the news from your MRI is good. It would be nice to have a date for the end of chemo. I'm sure it can't come fast enough for you!

The boys are turkey hunting and my family is getting ready for my folks' 50th wedding anniversary next weekend. My sister will be here with her brood and it should be a lot of fun.

I love the humor in your posts and am always amazed that you can find the light side in everything. A wonderful gift to have!

We are thinking of you every day and will look for the results of your latest test.

Stay positive! Love, Ginny (and John, of course)

Sunday 04/09/2006 7:06:15pm

Name: Amy, Erik, and Paige Mikkelson

Email: emikkelson@wi.rr.com

Message: We were very happy that you stopped to see us while in the area. It was wonderful to chat and catch up on what's new. We will try to make it to MN soon. Paige talked about you all day ("Where'd Tracy go?"). Thanks again for stopping - we loved seeing you.

You are an inspiration to many. Your positive attitude is amazing. Have a great Easter.

Love,
Amy, Erik, and Paige

Thursday 04/06/2006 9:27:41pm

Name: John and Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hello Tracy - One year down and what - 60 plus to go??

Your positive attitude, love from family and friends, and God's blessing continue to show up at this site. It's nice just to read your blogs and the guestbook entries and think about you and those who care so for you!

Ginny is baking cookies to take to work in the morning and I just got back from my weekly Big Brothers get-together. I've been matched with Luke for over 6 years - in just two more years our match will end, but I'm sure our friendship will continue. He's a good kid with all the typical high-school problems...I had forgotten how "critical" everything was then. Sure doesn't seem so now!

I'm glad you're looking forward to softball season and now biking. I'm planning to do more of that too. I've only gotten out a few times each summer with Luke - and I even have mountain bike trails in my backyard!

We continue to think about you and pray for you.

Have a Happy Easter!

We Love You - John and Ginny

Tuesday 04/04/2006 10:57:36am

Name: Gina Moldenhauer

Email: gmoldenhauer@kreilkamp.com

Message: Hi Cuz,

I was thinking about you since it was a year ago today that you had your seizure. Boy how times flies & how we've all learned not to take things for granted. I've certainly learned a lot over the course of this last year.

Every time I read an entry of yours I'm amazed at how positive you are. You've certainly inspired me & I'm sure many others too!

I am excited to see you this weekend. Please have a safe trip back to WI. Til Saturday....Hugs,
Gina

Sunday 04/02/2006 5:32:01pm

Name: Gene & Peggy

Email: Packfan222@verizon.net

Message: Tracy:

I can not believe it has been a full year since you were first diagnosed. We are both happy to hear the positive updates on your site.

Sure sounds like you have been keeping yourself busy and I was happy that you realized when you were pushing yourself too hard at work.

It was great to hear the news about Elizabeth and Jon. Have not talked to your Mom and Dad yet, but it would be nice if a bunch of us could have a family vacation and share in their special day.

Keep up the positive attitude and know that we are always thinking about you.

Gene

Saturday 04/01/2006 10:54:24am

Name: The Trefz'

Email: tucka@tds.net

Message: Hi Tracy--

Even though we don't know you very well, we just want you to know that we keep you in our thoughts and prayers. We talk to your uncles--Gene & John--every so often, so they keep us posted on how you're doing. And whenever I check your blog, I am amazed at your positive attitude. It is wonderful that you continue to go about your life so actively, despite all of this--Good for you!!

We are looking forward to spring and warmer weather, too. Hope you get lots of chances soon to enjoy that bike--we're hoping we're done with snow!!

We'll be seeing your dad and Michael in another week, followed by John & Gene. Haven't heard/seen too many turkeys so far.....last fall we had some walk right past our house!!

Well, you take care. Keep up those good spirits and positive attitude. And we will also be keeping you in our prayers.....Happy Spring!

Reed, Becky, Erika & Tucker

Tuesday 03/28/2006 8:55:29pm

Name: Annette

Email: acharlene@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy-

Wow, you have been one busy young lady...both professionally and socially. Don't you just hate it when work is soooo busy that you have to spend nights and weekends there? Oh, well, we have to look at the positive. At least we have jobs and being busy ensures we keep them...right?? Glad to hear you and Scott have been taking time to have some fun. Heck, I'm tired just reading about everything you have done.

It certainly is hard to believe it's almost a year since your seizure and ultimate diagnosis. But look at you now - you're beating this thing...with so much determination and with such a great attitude. Those attributes are the best medicine out there. Keep it up.

I don't know if you heard yet, but Elizabeth and Jon are engaged!! They celebrated their 2nd anniversary on March 12, so Jon proposed to her on March 11th. They are planning a destination wedding to St. John (US Virgin Islands) on March 12, 2007. It will provide a great warm weather vacation to any of the guests that can escape the Wisconsin (and in your case), Minnesota end-of-winter blahs. I'm so happy for them and look forward to having Jon join the family. Elizabeth is setting up a web-site to keep everyone up-to-date on the event. I'll be sharing your email address with her, so watch your mail.....

Finally, take care Tracy, and continue to keep us posted on everything. We will keep you in our prayers and thoughts always.....

Love-Annette

Tuesday 03/07/2006 4:54:57pm

Name: John and Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy: It was great to see that your chemo may be done sooner than you expected! Ginny and I continue to think of you often and pray for your complete recovery!

I'm doing much better now. The pain from the back surgery is gone and so is the pain from the herniated disc (and all the pain patches and pills!). I'm working hard at the physical therapy. If I need added incentive, I have the goal of turkey hunting in April to help keep me motivated. Gene and I have the week after your Dad and brother... Gene and I are going to Nebraska first to try to get another sub-species of turkey (Merriam) so I need to be ready by then.

Hopefully you'll be down sometime soon again and we can see you - let us know.

All our Love - John and Ginny

Tuesday 02/28/2006 5:17:24pm

Name: Kristin Wudi

Email: kwudi1@sbcglobal.net

Message: Hey Tracy,
Nice MRI pictures!! Being in the medical field, I have a strange obsession with seeing new things. That would be my first MRI, very interesting. Anyways, glad to hear the news from you recent appointment was all good and that you only have three months left of treatment. How exciting!!! You really have proven you are a strong person who can get through anything life throws your way. Maybe next time Tricia comes your way I can tag along too. Talk to you later.
Kristin

Wednesday 02/22/2006 8:54:24pm

Name: Jim and Kathy

Email:

Message: Sounds like you have been one busy girl. Hope the MRI turned out to be good news. Tim and Lauren and still waiting for that baby to come - only 2 more weeks. Pat and Angie are putting their house up for sale - they are looking to buy a ranch and upgrade a bit. We went up to Oshkosh last week to help paint and spruce up the place for their first open house this weekend. Tony is also coming back from San Diego - he is looking to become a police officer here in Wisconsin. Don't ask where that came from, he just said he wanted to make a career change and now was the perfect chance with no strings to hold him back. We want you to know that you continue to be in our thoughts and prayers. Take care.
Love: Jim and Kathy

Wednesday 02/15/2006 7:52:36pm

Name: Gene & Peggy

Email:

Message: Tracy

Glad to here you had a good time at the hockey game. Peggy and I talked about going to the game, but I guess we get enough of the Lambeau "mystique" during football season.

Thanks for keeping the weekly updates going and I know the whole Theisen clan thinks of you often. Good luck with the MRI test on Sunday.

Gene

Tuesday 02/14/2006 8:15:45am

Name: Tricia

Email: twudi@imagemark.com

Message: Hey Hun :)

Happy Valentine's Day! It was so good to see you over the weekend - you look fabulous. Sorry we were a little late Friday night - I'm glad you were able to hold off for dinner until we arrived. I completely agree with you - it was so nice to hang out with my high school friends ... those opportunities are so far and few between these days. Also glad to read that you stayed warm for most of the game on Saturday, I'm impressed.

So, when do I get to see you next? I guess it's my turn to make a visit, we'll have to set something up.

Take care and I'm sending all my good thoughts your way for your MRI results :)

Love Ya,
Tricia

Tuesday 01/24/2006 10:48:12pm

Name: The Lengell's

Email: glengell@wi.rr.com

Message: Hi Tracy:

Just read your updates. Thanks for continuing to take the time to write them. We think of you often and you are in our prayers. It was great seeing you at Grandma's during Christmas. It sounds like you were extremely busy over the holiday season.

Our wish for 2006 is that your remaining chemo weeks go fast and well for you. You will beat this cancer. We can all feel it.

Take care.

Love
The Lengell's

Wednesday 01/18/2006 9:40:36pm

Name: Sara Boeck

Email: boeck2203@yahoo.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

Sorry it has taken me so long to write in your guest book. I am so sorry to hear what you are going through. I think about you often, and you are always in my prayers.

Take Care

Your cousin,

Sara Boeck (Moldenhauer)

Wednesday 01/04/2006 10:45:36am

Name: Katie Hanson

Email: katiehanson@wi.rr.com

Message: Hey Tracy! I was finally able to visit your website. It's so awesome. Your Christmas letter was so heartwarming. I'm glad to hear you're doing well. I'm sorry you have a cold, though. Seems to be going around. I think of you almost every day, and now I'm glad I have a way to make sure you're doing OK. Feel better soon! Love, Katie

Tuesday 01/03/2006 3:13:18pm

Name: Kristin Wudi

Email: kwudi1@sbcglobal.net

Message: Hey Tracy,

Sorry to hear about your cold. I have a good one going on too. I may have made things worse when I decided to do the Polar Bear Dip into Lake Michigan on New Year's Day. My mom keeps reminding me that wasn't the smartest idea I've ever had. I agree, but it was definitely worth it and will become a new tradition for us. Just wanted to wish you a Happy New Year. It was great seeing you over the holidays. Have a wonderful week and we'll talk to you later.

Kristin

Thursday 12/22/2005 12:50:17am

Name: Annette Mueller

Email: acharlene@charter.net

Message: Happy Belated Birthday Tracy!! I finally had the chance to log into your website and read all your updates. It's been long overdue. I am so happy to hear everything is progressing so well. It sounds like Dr. T has been doing a good job of keeping you up to date and answering your questions.

I've been extremely busy at work. I organize Holiday parties (as part of my job) for our "senior citizen" customers. I had 6 parties in 8 days....it has exhausted me. Add into that all the normal Christmas preparations, plus Luke's 21st birthday on 12/18, and Paul's 17th birthday today (12/22), and that is one busy month! Whew.....but I survived it, and am happy that I have a job (with senior citizen customers), have great kids, and can afford the "Christmas preparations". So all is well. I finished Mom's scrapbook from her 80th birthday party. I think it turned out really nice and I'm sure she'll treasure it. I started it on Dec. 15th and worked day and night to get it completed by midnight, December 18th. Not too bad, and it's amazing how well a person can work when "under pressure". Also, I completed church decorating, which I organize and plan, and it took 2 evenings and one afternoon, but it's done and looks beautiful. Finally I can sit in front of my artificial Christmas tree and take in the smell of my "Christmas Wreath" Yankee candle (which replaces the scent of a "real" Christmas tree), while sipping on Cosmopolitans or anything else with vodka in.

Anyways Tracy, you have carried a large cross this year and have done so, graciously. God blessed you with a fantastic attitude and outlook, and blessed all of us with you. You are an inspiration to all who know you and will beat this "cancer thing" for good. I look forward to seeing you at Christmas and please keep this site going, as it is so awesome to keep in touch with you. Please convey my "thanks" to your many friends who help you keep it current. I'm also enjoying the photos...keep 'em coming.

Take care of yourself and travel safely and I'll see you real soon!

Love-Annette

Monday 12/19/2005 8:39:57am

Name: Father John

Email: jnt@execpc.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

Received your letter the other day. Was good to hear from you. Also read your latest e-mail message. Please don't be disappointed because you won't know whether they got all the cancerous growth. That always seems to be the case in all the cases I have known. Just be patient. It will all be successful. Have faith. Hope to see you during the Christmas season. At any rate, have a very beautiful Christmas! Love, Fr. John

Tuesday 11/22/2005 8:29:01pm

Name: Kristin Wudi

Email: kwudi1@sbcglobal.net

Message: Hey Tracy,

I'm glad to hear things are going a little better for you this round. It's been awhile since I sent you a message. Not a whole lot is new around here. I went hunting last weekend with my dad and my boyfriend, Jason. My dad and I both got a doe, (that's #6 for me). Not a real strong record, but o'well. As usual things are getting alittle crazy around here with the holidays and all. We have our annual Wudi tree cutting event next weekend, which is always interesting. Tricia can't join us this year and I think she may be okay with that (Ha Ha). I would love to come and see you sometime soon. I'll have to talk with Tricia and maybe plan a road trip. Well, I guess I've blabbed on enough for now. I hope you have a wonderful Thanksgiving. The Wudi's always have you in our thoughts and prayers. Have a great rest of the week.

Thursday 11/10/2005 8:42:24am

Name: John and Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy - Sounds like rest is in order for you. Try to get as much as you can. I've been doing the same since I pinched a nerve in my back. I'm getting an MRI next Wednesday to see what's up with that since it's been over a month and not getting much better. At least I have some good pain pills now. It sure makes hunting tough when I can't climb a tree. Sounds like I should come up by you and take a walk with you and I could try to get some venison that way! Ginny accepted a new job with an internet content management software company and will start Nov. 28th. She's pretty excited about that but she's sad to be leaving her current job - it's always tough moving on to something else and leaving the friends she's made. I hope that you can make it down for the holidays. Thanksgiving would be great, but I expect it's a bit too much traveling. I hope you make it down for Christmas! Mom had wrist surgery and she's doing well recovering from that. She's still cooking beets, making endive salad and doing as much sewing as she can with only one good arm - she sends her love too. Take care and stay positive!
All our Love - John and Ginny

Wednesday 11/09/2005 6:52:49pm

Name: Nicole Nye

Email: nicole.nye@gmail.com

Message: Tracy, I just talked to Amy McDevitt today and learned about how you've been doing. I'm sorry that you've had such a difficult year. The web site is wonderful. Thank you for sharing your story in such detail. I'd love to catch up when you're feeling up to it. My personal e-mail is nicole.nye@gmail.com. Stay strong and know that my thoughts and prayers are with you. Love, Nicole

Monday 11/07/2005 10:39:33am

Name: Father John

Email: jnt@execpc.com

Message: Dear Tracy,

Sorry to hear that round six is giving you such a hard time. Just take it easy and above, don't feel the least bit guilty when you are resting. From all my dealings with people who had to take chemo, I learned that rest is the very best thing you can do to make it more effective and help you recover more quickly. Try not to run into any more deer Tracy because your dad will get all excited and will buy a deer license in Minnesota and get them out of your way. Speaking of sports, I was lucky the other week. I caught and released two nice muskies which I caught right here on Random Lake. One was 38 1/4 and the other 39 3/4 inches in length. My dog, Lady, sure enjoyed being with me as they were jumping next to the boat.

Well Tracy, hang in there. I'll keep on praying and storming heaven for your return to good health. Love, Fr. John

Saturday 10/08/2005 9:35:48am

Name: John and Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy - We're sorry to read about the problems you've been having with the transfusions and all. We're continuing to think of, and pray for you.

It was great to see you and Scott at Mom's birthday party. We got some good pictures of her with all the grandkids. If you want to see them I made a CD with all the pictures Ginny and I took and gave one to your Mom and Dad.

Continue to be positive and we look forward to seeing you during the holidays!

Love - John and Ginny

Tuesday 10/04/2005 9:16:27pm

Name: Gene and Peggy

Email: packfan222@verizon.net

Message: Tracy-

So sorry to hear about your blood levels and the hideous transfusion you had to endure. Yikes, just reading about it made us dizzy. We're both giant wimps when it comes to needles and can't imagine what that must be like. Hopefully the MRI showed good results yesterday - we're keeping our fingers crossed and praying for you! You are always in our thoughts even if we don't take the time to write as often as we should. Your strength and courage are inspiring. That, plus your great sense of humor will get you through this.

Love,

Gene and Peggy

Monday 09/19/2005 1:53:08pm

Name: Eric Peterson

Email: epeterson@kstp.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

I've been thinking about you lately and wanted to hear how you're doing. The website is a great idea and I'll certainly visit more often. I hope you are feeling well. It seems like you're very busy with work and trips, etc. You know, we are coming-up on our annual lunch, so perhaps we can also get Jen and Jeff to join us. It would be nice to see them, too. My new job has been challenging. My learning curve the first three months went through the roof! That's OK. To be honest, my last year at Fallon almost bored me to tears. If I had to teach another crosstab to someone, I was going to scream. Do you realize, I've probably taught half the planners in the Twin Cities how to do a crosstab? I'm not sure what to make of that, but I try to look on the funny side of most things. After loosing a job (which I've done before), I seem to pull out all the cliches, you know "Everything works out for the best" "Everything happens for a reason," etc. Sometimes these cliches help me keep my perspective on things. And I'd have to say that media research people are a dime a dozen right now. Getting out of the agency biz was probably the best thing that could have happended to me. It's just too damn volatile, but I do miss it. Oh well, I'm rambling now, so I guess I'd better boogie. Say "hi" to Jen and Jeff for me.

Talk to you soon,

Eric

Sunday 09/11/2005 8:15:36pm

Name: Jim and Kathy

Email: vogie@nconnect.net

Message: It was so great to see you at Grandma's big birthday party. We all went out there today to see all her gifts and she really loved the photo book of all the grandkids that you made - great job!!!! It was also great to finally meet Scott - what a guy and I think a "keeper". Too bad the last round of chemo was a little harder on you. I'm sure you were just a little more rundown with the trip to Wisconsin and all. Keep up the positive thoughts and we certainly will keep you in our thoughts and prayers.
Uncle Jim and Aunt Kathy

Wednesday 09/07/2005 7:07:36pm

Name: Annette Mueller

Email: acharlene@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy-

Glad to hear you survived your last round of chemo, even though it was a bit tougher this time around. I'm sure all the busy weekends and commotion the several weeks before had an effect on that. Time to relax and re-energize. It was so nice seeing you at Grandma's birthday party. You look great and that wonderful sense of humor and disposition is still intact. Also thanks for bringing Scott along and giving us the opportunity to finally meet this incredible young man. The entire day was just awesome. One that Grandma won't soon forget. I'm sure she's bragging to everyone about it. Take care of yourself and enjoy the upcoming autumn season. We will work to arrange a trip up to Minneapolis to spend some time with you in the very near future. Keep smiling!!

Love~Aunt Annette

Wednesday 08/31/2005 6:17:42pm

Name: Mary Carol Murphy

Email: mmurphy@gjusa.com

Message: Dear Tracy:

I think of you often and we all say a little prayer for you every night before dinner. I'm so glad to hear that things are looking up for you. I can't wait to see you in a few weeks. Thanks for the blogs--it's such a good idea!

Hang in there! You are an inspiration to many.

Mary Carol

Monday 08/22/2005 3:22:19pm

Name: Robin Billie

Email: Rbillie@hearst.com

Message: Hi--was just thinking about you and decided to check in. Sounds like very positive news. Boston sounded great. Checked out your photo gallery and you look awesome! Good thoughts from me to you!

Wednesday 08/10/2005 9:35:45am

Name: Fr. John

Email: jnt@execpc.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

Wrote you two days ago, but I don't think my message got through to you - I made a mistake in addressing it. At any rate, I was so happy to hear about your latest MRI results. Things are shaping up Tracy - better days ahead. Just be patient, it will all work out. I promise to keep you in my prayers. Love, Fr. John

Monday 08/08/2005 2:02:30pm

Name: Jean and Mike Rogers

Email: jrogers@uwc.edu

Message: Hey Tracy - great news about your MRI!!

It sounds like you're bouncing back, and we hope that all the news continues to be good. Your positive attitude is surely helping. You are still in our thoughts and prayers. Jean and Mike Rogers

Monday 08/08/2005 11:28:32am

Name: Tim Kahl

Email: Timothy.Kahl@Wausau.com

Message: Glad to see the treatment is going well!

Saturday 08/06/2005 5:53:13pm

Name: Lengell

Email: glengell@wi.rr.com

Message: Hi Tracy:

I just had a chance to read your updates and we are so glad to hear about the results of your MRI and being able to cut back on the steroids. It also sounds like you and Scott had a great time in Boston. I have been there three times and have enjoyed each visit. It is a beautiful area of the country. Please know that we continue to keep you in our thoughts and prayers. We hope you can make Grandma's big bash at the end of the month. Take care and lots of love.

The Lengell's

Friday 08/05/2005 5:28:08pm

Name: Annette Mueller

Email: acharlene@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy-

I just read your update on the results of the MRI. Yeahhhhhh....what wonderful news! I couldn't be happier for you and will keep the prayers coming. Keep that awesome attitude and what wonderful friends you have. It truly is a wonderful support group you have. I hope to meet them all one day soon and thank them for helping you get through all this.

Happy to hear about your trip to Boston with Scott. What a nice getaway and the change of scenery certainly had to be a boost. I hope to get there too one day. I have been fortunate to be overseas many times but haven't seen much of our beautiful country.

I'm hoping you'll be able to make the trip down for Grandma's birthday party at the end of the month. It will not only make her day but all of ours as well.

Stay strong and hope you can get completely off the steroids as planned.

Love you~

Aunt Annette

Tuesday 08/02/2005 9:03:40pm

Name: Ginny Theisen

Email: huntert@charter.net

Message: Hi Tracy! I'm just checking in to see what's new and hoping that you're feeling well this week.

I'm so glad that you're back at work...although saying that sounds just a bit strange. But I know you like what you do and get satisfaction from it. That's always a good thing.

I was happy to hear that you and Scott will be coming for your Grandma's birthday party. It's really turning into quite a bash. The planning has been a lot of fun and I don't ever remember working on a project that has had so much cooperation and good will. If we have half as much fun at the party itself, it'll be a sure success!

We are so looking forward to seeing you!

Love, Ginny

Monday 07/25/2005 8:09:33pm

Name: Gene Theisen

Email: Packfan222@verizon.net

Message: Tracy;

We were glad to hear the good news on your blood test. I am sure you will have a good time in Boston. I have had a chance to travel to Boston for business on several occasions and it really is a great town. Lot's of history and neat places to see.. (Beware of the traffic!!)..

We continue to think about you and keep you in our prayers..

Love;
Gene & Peggy

Friday 07/22/2005 4:22:49pm

Name: Amy Grosenick

Email: Groseni@AOL.com

Message: Hey Tracy-

I just wanted to send you a quick hello and hope that all is going well for you. Have fun in Boston. I will keep praying for you and for Scott. I wish a full recovery for both of you! Have a safe trip!

Tuesday 07/12/2005 11:18:49am

Name: Paula Stein

Email: paula.stein@teenpeople.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

Just a quick email to say hello and let you know that I've been thinking about you. I'm glad to hear that you were able to travel and enjoy time up in WI. (I've never seen a loon!)

Best wishes for continued and improved good health.

Best,
Paula

Tuesday 07/12/2005 8:44:53am

Name: Jayne Nowicki

Email: jleslee@wi.rr.com

Message: Hi Tracy,

I've been following your progress, and I'm so very happy all is going so well. You are indeed as great and strong as you are feeling, but of course, you always were great and strong. Along with you, your cousin Scott and the Kossoris family are in my prayers. There is a point during our church service where I can offer names for prayer, and the whole congregation prays with me. Needless to say, this has been done for you several times already, and I'll be sure to include Scott and the Kossoris family. If they share an iota of your positive outlook, I know all will be well. BTW, it is time for some new coloring books?

Jayne

Monday 07/11/2005 10:15:45am

Name: Shannon Schusted

Email: shannon.schusted@fallon.com

Message: Tracy-

Thank you for setting up this website. You have been in my thoughts and prayers over the past few months. It's so nice to see photos, read your entries and learn more about what you are going through. Keep up the positive attitude. I look forward to reading about your progress.

God Bless,
Shannon

Wednesday 07/06/2005 4:29:14pm

Name: Karla Rapp

Email: karla.rapp@fallon.com

Message: Tracy-

I've missed you and have been thinking of you. We'll do some brainstorming over here at Fallon on ways to help out. Take Care and I'll be in touch.

Love Karla Rapp (Gerzema)

Tuesday 06/28/2005 7:02:53pm

Name: Amy Grosenick

Email: groseni@AOL.com

Message: Hey Tracy-

It is nice to hear that your treatments are going well thus far. I hope that all goes well with returning back to work. Keep up the positive thinking and hopefully we will see you soon. Love~ Amy

Monday 06/27/2005 11:46:42am

Name: Mindy Provenzano

Email: mindy_provenzano@realsimple.com

Message: Hi Tracy, This is the first time I could get on your website....I hear traffic is high! Well I saw some of your cohorts from Haworth last week during my MN trip and I heard the good news that you are coming back in a couple of weeks. Just wanted you to know that I'm thinking of you and would love to chat once you get back. Take Care and I hope to see you soon. Mindy

Sunday 06/26/2005 9:04:54pm

Name: mike and barb kossoris

Email: mbkossoris@netwurx.net

Message: Haven't had a chance to let you know how good it was to see you two weeks ago. I'm so glad we were able to connect. Your positive attitude makes me so proud of you! Sounds like this round of chemo seemed to go better for you and that you have been trying to get back into a normal routine. I think working will keep your mind busy and the support you have there will keep you positive-- just don't overdo! Know that our thoughts and prayers are with you--love and hugs, mr. and mrs. K
